Khula Aasmaan - New Era in Children's Art

Children's Art is a relatively new section of Indiaart.com. Although a new section, it is emerging as the hub of new ideas and young energy. Indiaart presented the first major exhibition of Children's Art in 2014. It received encouraging reviews and appreciation from all sections of the society. In 2015, Indiaart announced a platform dedicated to Children's Art which has been aptly titled "Khula Aasmaan" ( meaning Open Skies ). Through Khula Aasmaan, Indiaart will present portfolios of child artists, conduct art contests, exhibitions and other such initiatives.

The first art contest for children between the age group 5 to 15 closed on 30th November 2015. Participating children submitted their artworks under five themes. There was no restriction on the medium for creating the artworks. The quality of artworks shows that if children are encouraged to do their own thinking, they can create wonderful work. "Khula Aasmaan" will always work with children to bring out their originality and encourage freedom of expression without interfering with their creative process. Select artworks from among those received are being put up in this exhibition at Mumbai. This exhibition and all the related content will be available on www.indiaart.com.

The team at Indiaart and its associates have worked hard for the past few months in organising "Khula Aasmaan". I would like to acknowledge the efforts put in by Aarohi, Minakshi, Sunil and Sujeeet during each stage of "Khula Aasmaan". I would like to thank several art teachers, friends, well wishers and associates of Indiaart for their support. Notable among them are Deepak Dubal, Chandrashekhar Naik, Debjani Datta, Shubhra Chaturvedi, Yogendra Kunte, Mandar Pandit, Anil Joshi and Raghavendra Ponkshe. A special mention is due to Chitra Vaidya, who has made a significant contribution to the conceptualisation and execution of Khula Aasmaan this year. She has also been associated with Children's Art initiatives by Indiaart and Art India Foundation for the past several years. Her long years of experience of working with children has richly contributed to the children's art initiatives of Indiaart and Art India Foundation.

Finally, a big thank you to all the young friends who have created these wonderful paintings. Their parents and families have played an important role in making Khula Aasmaan a platform of young talent, creative energy and originality of expression. Let us celebrate this edition of Khula Aasmaan.

Indiaart Gallery

Indiaart has been one of the pioneering ventures in taking Indian art online. Active since 2002, Indiaart.com as well as Indiaart Gallery has worked with a large number of artists, sculptors and photographers and has organised more than 500 art exhibitions. Indiaart.com has a global audience with customers spread in different geographies who have been collecting paintings, sculptures and prints. Indiaart organised the first children's art exhibition in 2014. Since then, Children's Art has emerged as an important section in Indiaart.com.

Today, Indiaart.com has emerged as a platform and marketplace of choice for artists as well as art buyers.

Indiaart will continue to grow in terms of its content as well as reach and create opportunities for artists, sculptors and photographers.

Art India Foundation

Art India Foundation is a public charitable trust which was formed to carry out projects and initiatives to take art to the masses with a special focus on children. Over the years, Art India Foundation has undertaken several projects and initiatives. Notable among them is the long term project "Art to Schools" which involves organising interaction of school children with accomplished personalities from diverse creative fields.

Other initiatives undertaken by Art India Foundation till date involve organising art workshops, demonstrations and other events. The projects and initiatives have been documented on its website : www.artindiafoundation.org

Themes

1. City of my Dreams

Draw or paint how you want your village or town or city to be. Let your imagination soar. Look at your town from within or from above and sketch or paint the town of your dreams.

2. My India

Draw or paint the fascinating aspects of India. It could be one or many. It could be a place or people or festivals - whatever fascinates you about India.

3. My Journey into Outer Space

Take a ride into a spaceship and reach for the stars. Travel to distant galaxies. Draw or paint what you would see. Do not base your drawings or paintings on photographs of outer space. Use your imagination to visualise how the outer space, distant planets, stars and galaxies would look like.

4. My Favourite Things

Draw or paint what you like to do the most - play football, ride a bicycle, go to a movie, read a book, take a train ride to your grandparent's place, have an ice-cream or whatever you like.

5. Open

You are free to submit artwork on any theme of your choice other than the themes mentioned above.

Jury

Prof. Yashwant Pitkar

Recently retired as Principal of Sir J. J. College of Architecture, Mumbai after a long stint of active teaching for 28 years. Is known to be a multi faceted personality. Has been a member of several committees, has several books, articles, seminars and workshops to his credit. Despite being occupied in his professional and related commitments, he finds time to pursue his hobbies of fountain pen collecting and photography.

Milburn Cherian

Graduated in visual communication from National Institute of Design, Ahmedabad. Milburn is known for her highly detailed and intricate forms which straddle all possible aspects of human life. She has had several solo shows and has been a part of numerous group shows and art camps in India as well as other countries. She has contributed to number of charities by making available her paintings for fundraising.

Chitra Vaidya

Chitra completed her graduate and postgraduate studies from Sir J. J. School of Art, Mumbai and has eleven solo and fifteen group exhibitions at leading galleries to her credit. The range of themes in her exhibitions reflect her active mind and keen spirit of exploration. She has been working with children for several years and has conducted numerous workshops and demonstrations.
